

Bellemont bio (English)

After spending many years in a wide range of bands, the people who make up Bellemont now boldly step out of their comfort zones and take it to a much more individual level.

Blending their origins (singer Tracee West: USA / bassist Pip Vreede and guitarist Jack Bakker: The Netherlands / keyboardist Bruno Beeckmans: Flanders / drummer Joe Bacart: Brussels), their personal styles, their tastes and musical pasts, Bellemont end up with a sound influenced by a wide range of sources.

Their music contains hints of distilled soul, compacted blues, filtered torch, moody psych - sometimes all in one song. So no style over content, no trend hopping, no radio candy. No worn-out tricks, no easy tempos or playing on autopilot.

Bellemont aim to slowly seduce you with their sound, taking the long way home.
